My Partially Paralyzed Son Has Already Fought So Much Please Help Me To Save His Life.

Master Jay (13 Years)

2 years ago, one morning when my son Jay woke up, he was unable to move one of his hand and leg. His body was partially paralysed. After spending all our savings on his treatment, there was little improvement. His leg gradually regained some movement, but his hand still does not function properly.

But a few days ago, our world fell apart once again. Jay suddenly fainted, and his lips turned blue. We rushed him to a nearby hospital, from where he was referred to Amrita Hospital. After several tests, we received another heartbreaking news: Jay has Congenital Heart Disease and needs treatment costing Rs. 3.5 lakh.

My husband sold a part of our agriculture land, our only source of livelihood, but could arrange only 1.5 lakh. We Can't arrange more.

As a mother, I have already watched my child fighting battles no mother should ever have to face. I have seen him struggling to walk, and now I fear for his life.

I humbly appeal to Diya India Foundation and its kind-hearted supporters, please don't let my helplessness become the reason my son loses his chance at life.

Please come forward and help me save my child. Every contribution, no matter how small, can bring us closer to giving Jay a future.
