We Need Your Support to Save Her...*

Aditi 10 Months

10-months-old Aditi is the only child of her parents, born after years of hope and prayers. Three months ago, she suddenly fell seriously ill with pneumonia. Worried parents rushed her to the hospital, hoping it was just an infection that medicines would cure. But during the medical examinations, the family received heartbreaking news — their little Angel is suffering from Congenital Heart Disease. In that very moment, their world shattered. What they thought was a temporary illness turned out to be a life-threatening condition requiring urgent heart surgery. For her parents, it felt that their life has come to a standstill.

Her father is a carpenter who earns only Rs.15,000 a month, which barely covers the household expenses. The cost of her life-saving heart surgery is Rs. 4,50,000 — an amount far beyond what the family can afford. Watching their only daughter struggle with pain and weakness every day is heartbreaking for her parents, who are trying their best to save her life.

This little girl deserves a chance to live a healthy childhood filled with laughter and happiness. Your support and kindness can help give her a new life which she urgently needs and bring hope back to her family.
