Shadab (4 Years)

Shadab is a 4-year-old boy. His father is a daily wage worker and earns only 7,000 every month and his mother is a housewife. Shadab has a younger sister too.

One day Shadab was playing with his friends when he came home, his mother noticed that his breathing was not normal and his face has gone blue. His face made his parents worried about their son and at that moment they realized that there was something wrong with him.

Shadab's parents took him to the doctor and after doing a few tests, the doctor said their son is having problem in his heart and suggested his parents to take him to a good hospital in Delhi. Later, when his parents discussed with other people from the family and village, they suggested Ganga Ram Hospital as there was another baby from the same village who had a successful Congenital Heart surgery in the hospital.

Shadab's father is the sole earner in the family and they belong to the minority community. They have no money or jewellery that they can sell to facilitate their son's treatment. His parents are not in a condition to afford his treatment and they are looking for urgent help from Diya India Foundation and Its Supporters.

Please Help Shadab so that he Can Embrace a Brighter Future..
